

Dear Researchers,

We are pleased to inform you that the latest issue of IOJES (Volume 11, Issue 3, July) has been published. IOJES journal has made significant contributions to the field of educational sciences since 2009 and undoubtedly it will continue this mission successfully. Volume 11 issue 3 includes 20 rigorously peer-reviewed research articles which we strongly believe that they will provide significant contributions to the scientific world. In this respect, both quantitative and qualitative researches are included, as in the previous issue.

We thank our authors, reviewers, readers and our technical team who have contributed to the publication of the journal. While we wish you success at your academic studies, we look forward to receiving your research papers to be reviewed for possible publication in IOJES journal.

Best Regards.
