

Dear Researchers,

We are pleased to share that the latest issue of IOJES (Volume 10, Issue 3) has been published and it can be accessible on the journal's website:
<http://www.iojes.net/OncekiSayilarDetay.aspx?Sayi=3>

The problems regarding the technical infrastructure of our journal have been completely solved. In this new process, we are proud to announce that the IOJES journal has been included into a new international index "ERIH Plus" which means that all the published manuscripts will have the opportunity to reach a wide range of researchers and readers from all over the World. This new progress will not only help to increase the quality of the published manuscripts in the IOJES journal, but also increase the recognition of IOJES in the academic field.

We would like to thank our authors, reviewers, editorial team and assistant editors for their invaluable contributions. We expect you to support IOJES by submitting your studies.

Best Regards.